• Kitchen Garden Program:

We run Kitchen Garden Program in rural areas. Every year we distribute seeds to 100 families to develop their own kitchen gardens. This is supported by Action for Agriculture Renewal in Maharashtra, (AFARM) , Pune.

Previously vegetables used to be abundant in rural areas and everyone used to grow them but this is not being done anymore. Due to that, most families buy their daily consumption of fruits and vegetables from the market. So far, farmers were using different types of chemical fertilizers, pesticides and hormones for their cultivation. Such use of chemicals has adverse effect on the environment and in turn affects health of human beings. In order to raise awareness of organic farming we are implementing the Kitchen Garden program (Parsabag) with guidance from AFARM, Pune. Through this program we educate people in the villages about the importance of organic farming and we show them how to cultivate fruits and vegetable without the use of any fertilizers or pesticide. We impress upon the that such organically produced fruits and vegetables are good for their health. We go further, we distribute native seeds and teach them how to manage the seeds for future.

To ensure the sustained diet of vegetables in the rural community and to prevent malnutrition, the effective implementation of the program was organized support the AFARM, Pune, and came under the jurisdiction of the organization i.e. Hingoli block's villages. Free of seeds distributed free of cost by guides to women's self-help groups established by the organization and other women . Kitchen garden's seed Provided by AFARM, Pune, at a very low price.
